TROOPERS SHOT IN FIGHT WITH MINGO MINERS

New Outbreak in Coal Field Imminent — Town of Logan Invaded

RELATIVES FREE MEN

Forty State Police With Bloodhounds Are Put on Trail of Escaped Prisoners.

Charleson, W. Va., Jan. 16.—The little mining village of Dry Branch 20 miles from here, was virtually surrounded by State police last night, as a result of the shooting of two troopers yesterday afternoon by coal miners.

The troopers—Lane H. Black, Morgantown, and Z. W. Taylor, Terra Alta—are in a critical condition at a hospital here. They went to the town to serve warrants attired in civilian clothes. The miners thought they were Logan men and opened fire upon them.

The shooting occurred when H. F Alford was arrested on charges of conspiracy in connection with the armed march last August.

H. L. Fletcher, superintendent of the Dry Branch Coal Company, who said he witnessed the shooting and the attending incidents attributed to the entreaties of Mrs. Bertha Trent, whose home is on the opposite side of Cabin Creek, the cessation of shooting before both men were more seriously injured or killed.

Both Mr. Fletcher and Colonel Arnold said that as the first shot rang out from the brush, while Arnold was being conducted to the railroad station, at the sound of which the prisoner took to his heels. Mrs. Trent plunged into the stream and waded to the other side where she singled out those hidden in the thickets and successfully prevailed upon them to discontinue the fusilade.

While she was thus engaged the two wounded officers lay at the base of an embankment down which they had been rolled by the impact of large caliber cartridges. After the flight of those who had done the shooting Mrs. Trent turned her attention to the wounded troopers and with the aid of Mrs. Flecher administered first aid prior to their removal.

An immediate round up of those suspected of having had previous knowledge of the affair was ordered and as a result Mrs. Elmer Smithhouse, Fred Thompson, Berlin Adkins and Ceco Ellison were placed under arrest The police announced they are still seeking Smithhouse. in whose house they said, they found the rifles with which the shooting had been done; Leo Ellison and Alford.

The feeling in the Cabin Creek section is intense. The miners have resented the arrest of Frank Snyder, editor of the Federationist. labor organ, and Isaac Scott, acting secretary treasurer of the district union. on charges of treason and conspiracy.

Lieutenant Lilly. commanding State police, took 20 machine guns with him last night prepared for attack.

Col. Jackson Arnold. superinendent of public safety, later gave out a statement that the troopers were fired upon by relatives of Alford. who, after the wounding of the officers, succeeded in liberating the arrested man. All escaned, but a detachmnt of 40 State troopers were ordered immediately to go in pursuit of Alford and his kinsmen.

Several bloodhounds likewise were placed on the scent. Announcement was made that the shooting today was the first armed resistance encountered by officials in making arrests in connection with the demonstration to sunpress which Federal troops were ordered into the State.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, Jan. 16.—President Harding and his administration are confronted with a situation which is giving them no end of worry. It begins to look now that unless some means can be provided to prevent it, a strike of some 500,000 miners and 1,500,000 railway workers will be called sometime in the early summer. Such a condition of affairs would prove disastrous not only to the country itself but to the party in power. During the past two weeks, a series of conferences have been held between Secretary of Commerce Hoover and representatives of the railroads, the operators and employees. Another meeting has taken place with representatives of the miners and it is the hope of the administration that some method can be devised which will result in the calling off of the contemplated strike. Miners are dissatisfied and so are the railroad workers. But the calling of a strike would work untold harm to the country which any tie-up in the transportation facilities of the United States would bring about. Therefore, the President is using his good offices in the hope of preventing such a calamity falling upon the country.

The name of Representative Bascom Slemp of the Ninth District of Virginia has been mentioned as a possible successor to Will H. Hays as Postmaster General. It is settled now that Mr. Hays will give up his position in the Cabinet to take charge of the moving picture producers and distributors at a salary of $150,000 a year. When President Harding was searching for material for the makeup of his Cabinet he expressed the hope that a place might be found for some Southern Republican as a member of his official family. However, the South was not recognized to this extent and now the friends of the Virginia Representative are urging his name before the White House in the hope that it will be given serious consideration before the President decides upon a successor to Postmaster General Hays.

In this connection the reported intention of former Governor Stuart of Virginia to enter the Congressional race against the member from the Ninth District is interesting. Should the former executive of the state decide to do so it is believed by Democrats that he could defeat Slemp for Congress, a thing which up to the present time has been impossible of achievement.

The Chinese and the Japanese delegates to Arms Conference seem to be making every effort to iron out their differences in the settlement of the principal problems now before them. This is especially true with respect to the question of Shantung and the return of the railroad system to the Chinese now being operated by the Japanese in that province. It is the hope of Secretary of State Hughes and the other members of the American delegation that the Shantung problem will be settled during the present week and then with the naval treaty agreed upon, there can be another open session of the conference. The last one took place on December 10 and the people of the country are growing weary of the endless number of secret conferences with very little results accomplished.

With the forthcoming retirement from the Cabinet of Postmaster General Will H. Hays, gossip is going the rounds of the National Capital that other changes in President Harding's official family will shortly be forthcoming. It is rumored that Secretary of the Interior Fall is not at all pleased at the manner in which matters are being conducted in his Department and it would not surprise his friends if he signified his intention of leaving the Cabinet at no distant day.

Then the rumor that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will soon get out of the Cabinet keeps bobbing up every few days. Mellon himself has vigorously denied such reports but the frequency with which they occur leads some of his friends to believe that there is something besides mere rumor behind these stories. If Mellon should step down it is said that his place would be given to Secretary of War Weeks who knows more about financial and banking matters than he does about running the War Department.

DIVORCE SUITS IN WASHINGTON ARE ANALYZED

71 Per Cent of Equity Suits In District Alleged to be Divorce Cases

PROOF OF RESIDENCE

Washington Lawyer States Requirements in Alexandria Are More Strict Than in Washington.

The Washington Law Reporter, under date of November 11, 1921, published the fact that of the first two hundred equity cases on the calendar of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, one hundred and forty two were divorce cases. This statement shows that seventy-one per cent of the equity cases were divorce cases suits for absolute divorce, divorces from bed and board, maintenance and annulment of marriage. This means that in one thousand equity suits, seven hundred and ten are divorce cases in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. Considering the fact that adultery is the only ground of absolute divorce in the District of Columbia the above figures are startling.

Everybody knows that adultery being the only ground of absolute divorce in the District of Columbia, that hundreds of persons acquire the statutory residence of one year in Virginia and then apply for divorce.

But a prominent lawyer in the city of Washington states in this connection that his experience in the courts of Alexandria is that they require the complaints in divorce proceedings not only to prove every jurisdictional and essential part, but have required in every case that some resident of Virginia corroborate the complaint on proof of residence.

STRIKE CALLED BY CARMEN IN FOUR VA. CITIES

Street Railway Lines in Richmond, Norfolk, Portsmouth and Petersburg

WAGE CUT REFUSED

One Thousand Employees to Strike—Companies Will Attempt to Continue Service—Violence Feared.

Richmond, Jan. 15.—At midnight tonight the four cities of Richmond, Norfolk, Portsmouth and Petersburg will be tied up by a street car strike Employes of the Virginia Railway and Power Company, to the number of 1010, have voed to refuse the wage cuts by the company, only 96 voting against the strike.

A joint session of the Richmond City Council has been called for tomorrow in an effort to bring about some agreement between the company and the men. The lighting and power system, it is understood, will not be affected by the walkout.

In Richmond the employes are planning to operate jitney busses of their own routes covered by the company's cars in competition with the company. The jitneys will not charge for transportation, but the men will accept whatever the patrons give.

Police departments in all four cities are making elaborate preparations to prevent violence. At Norfolk the residents, remembering the bloody scenes that were enactd during the 1901 strike, are apprehensive of developments.

The traction company will attempt to operate its cars. It is the belief of the company officials that no trouble will be found in securing men to operate the cars on account of prevalent lack of employment. Misgivings are voiced by people, however, and the general belief is that the transportation of all four cities will be paralyzed for several days or until the strike is arbitrated.

The order for a strike was signed today by R. O. Tiller, president of Division No. 910 of the Carmen's Union, after the vote was taken last night.

The voting by the men follows a dispute over wages the company cutting the present rate to 30 cents an hour for first year men. 35 cents for second year men and 40 cents for all men of more than two years' service. The company declares that $350,000 a year in all four cities will be saved by the wage cut and that this saving must be effected in order to meet operating expenses.

The cars in all four cities will stop running at midnight The strike will not become effective, however, until 5 a. m., tomorrow morning, since all night car service is not maintained in them.

WILL ENDORSE JUDGE MONCURE FOR ELECTION

Bar Association In Session This Afternoon In Corporation Court

TO TAKE UP REPORT

Expected That Committee Will be Named to Investigate Report Published About Divorces Granted Here.

Members of the bar association of the city this afternoon are in session in the corporation court room with Attorney James R. Caton presiding.

It is understood to be the purpose of the association to indorse the re-election of Judge Robinson Moncure for judge of the corporation court. Already practically all of the members of the local bar have indorsed Judge Moncure for re-election by the state legislature and at this meeting it is understood this will be a reaffirmation of their indorsement which will be forwarded to the legislature.

Judge Moncure several days ago was nominated in the caucus for re-election as judge of the corporation court of this city.

It is regarded as highly probable that the members of the bar will appoint a special committee for the purpose of investigating statement published in a Washington paper about the large number of divorces granted here and also to determine whether or not the law has been complied within the divorces granted.

Bible Thought for Today

UPHEAVALS ARE LOOKED FOR IN CONFERENCE

Leaders Are Showing Results of Prolonged Strain of Negotiations

RUMORS OF TROUBLE

Strong Probability That Sessions Will Last Well Inti Next Month—Far From Agreement

Washington, Jan. 15.—The Conference on the Limitation of Armament will start tomorrow on its tenth full week, and it is to become a gathering of statesmen who are wearing thin.

Because they are wearing thin, and so are all the people about them, the possibilities of sudden upheavals are increasing, and the probabilities of the sessions running well into February are stronger than at any time since Mr. Hughes cut through the conventions on the opening day and gave an example of speed.

Right now and for the last several days this condition has been causing a flood of rumors of trouble. There was one that the Japanese were using the naval treaty as a pawn to check Mr. Hughes in the Far East; there was one that serious difficulties were encountered in formulating the scrapping provisions, with suggestions that efforts were being made to provide loopholes; there is one current that Mr. Hughes may hold up the naval treaty until the Chinese treaty is in shape, and there have been others bearing on the naval situation and dozens dealing with the Far East.

Very largely, perhaps, these rumors are simply the inevitable corps that arise when any such gatherings as this Conference reach a point where details are being whipped into shape—as in naval matters at present. At those times the people on the outside begin thinking about ghosts and talking about them. Scores of things that may conceivably happen are pushed to the front, and stay there until something important shunts them aside.

But it is by no means certain that all the disturbing things heard have been or are mere ghosts. The fact that the men who are carrying the load in the Conference are wearing thin, coupled with the possibilities in the Far Eastern situation, may lead to all sorts of trouble before the Conference ends, and may have led to embarrassments already that will be revealed in time.

The Administration and the American delegation are under pressure from the public and the Senate for important accomplishments in the East that is passed on more or less concretely to the delegates of the other important powers, and they naturally react according to their national interests. It is easily thinkable that men whose nervous resources are beginning to sag may seek to protect what they regard as national interests by moves that would complicate work already done.

Mr. Hughes, it is known, recognizes the necessity of guarding against such possibilities. He is understood to have observed that the strongest men wear out if they are pushed too hard and that men worn out are not the men to guide negotiations that require calm judgement and farsightedness. That is the reason, it is stated, that he has not called the Far Eastern committee into session in the last few days when the naval treaty has been held up awaiting advices from London and Tokio.

He felt that it was unwise to ask the Chinese and Japanese delegations to start on the work of the Far Eastern Committee while they were engaged upon so sensitive a subject as Shantung. The matters that are coming up in the Far Eastern Committee, it is very likely, will tend to arouse the feelings of both the Chinese and Japanese and it did no harm to give the other delegates a breathing spell, for the ingenuity of the British and American delegates will be taxed by these same matters.

Roanoke—Major R. F Taylor, superintendent of police, who succeeded W. J. Wrigney, who was put on the retired list, has issued orders to the force to be careful in checking up on automobile speeders and other traffic violators. After February 1 the police will check up on all persons not taking out license tags and the offenders brought to court.

BLACKSTONE ACADEMY BURNS

One Believed Dead and Two Injured Result of $150,000 Fire

Second Blackstone School Fire in Week is Thought to be of Incendiary Origin

Blackstone, Jan. 16.—As the result of a fire which destroyed the Blackstone Military Academy here this morning, Tom Bibee of Spray, N. C., is missing and is believed to have been burned to death, Albert Chaney, of Pace's, received what are feared to be fatal injuries as he fell from a third story window, and W. R. Thorne, of Rocky Mount, N. C. sustained several broken ribs and serious bruises in a fall when the second floor gave way.

Young Bibee was last seen by his roommate after the fire had broken out. They left the room together, but Bibee returned saying he had left somthing. It was first thought that he had left town but all inquiries and attempts to find him have failed and the school authorities now fear that he perished in the flames.

A loss estimated at about $150,000 resulted from the fire which was first seen coming from under the roof about 10 o'clock this morning. The building was standing high on a hill and the strong west wind that was blowing caused it to burn so rapidly hat little or nothing within the building could be saved. By the time the fire department arrived destruction was complete.

Since the buikding caught fire in the upper floor as did the Blackstone Female Institute which burned last Tuesday evening, and since the cause of the fire has not ben undetermined it is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

Many of the cadets were in class when the news of the fire spread and they were marchd out in an orderly fashion being unable to return to their rooms and forced to leave the building without their coats. Citizens of the town are furnishing those without proper clothing with over coats, shoes and other necessary wearing apparel.

Cadets in the upper stories had to scramble to safety and it was in making his exit from a third story window by means of a rope that younng Chaney fell, fracturing his arm and sustaining interpal injuries feared to be of a fatal nature. He was hurried to Richmond for expert medical attention. Another student cut his hand badly while sliding to safety down a water spout.

First aid treatment was given the injured in the homes of Blackstone which have temporarily cared for all the cadets. Colonel E. S. Ligon was not able to say last night what steps will be taken to continue the school this session except that for the present the boys will be sent to their homes. A large unoccupied hotel of the town may be secured to continue the work.

Near East Relief

Dr. Allison Named Head of Drive in Arlington County

Rev. John Lee Allison, D. D., Presbyterian Minister of Alexandria, was today appointed chairman of the Near East Relief in Arlington County by Oliver J. Sands, State Chairman, in Richmond. His appointment marks the beginning of an active campaign for the raising of Arlington County's quota of $4,920 in the Statewide drive of this organization for $300,000 in Virginia.

In a long distance conversation with Mr. Sands this morning Dr. Allison definitely announced his decision to accept the chairmanship of the Near East Relief for Alexandria and the county. He pledged every effort to raise the quota of the district under his supervision, which is equivalent to the support of eighty-two orphans in the asylums of the Near East in Armenia and Syria.

By special request of Dr. Allison, "Alice in Hungerland," a motion picture, described by those who have seen the terrible conditions overseas, as the most graphic, production of a true story they have ever seen, will be shown here soon. Mr. Sands promised Dr. Allison he would forward the film to Alexandria at the earliest possible moment. Later a speaker of national importance will be procured by the Near East Relief and will come to Alexandria to speak for this great cause.

All contributions from Arlington County citizens should be sent through Dr. Allison hereafter, it has been announced. Dr. Allison is seeking the cooperation and support of citizens of Alexandria in this work.

"There is no question now that Arlington County will raise its quota in the Near East Drive," Mr. Sands rewrote here today, "but every effort should be made to have the funds for this great work in hand as soon as possible. Thousands are homeless, in danger of freezing and starving. Only America can help them. There is no doubt that Arlington County will do its share. but it should be done at once to do the most good in this great work."

Richmond—A single contribution of $471 from Rivermont Avenue Methodist Church and Sunday school, of Lynchburg, has been received by the Near East Relief headquarters in Richmond.

WILSON SURE WORLD LEAGUE WILL SURVIVE

In Speech to Throng He Says Doubters Had Better Get Out of Way

CROWD AT RESIDENCE

Former President's Vice is Clear and Shows No Signs of Weakness—Greeted With Applause

Washington, Jan. 16. — Former President Woodrow Wilson, in response to the demand of more than 1000 persons who marched from a mass meeting at the National Theatre to his S street home yesterday, made a brief doorstep speech on the League of Nations.

The demonstration rivaled that held in his honor Armistice Day.

The "afternoon call" was a spontaneous affair and came as a climax to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation meeting in the theatre, when a young man in the audience moved that they take the band with them and go to Mr. Wilson's house.

"Such a demonstration of friendship and confidence," began the former President, "is indeed gratifying. As for the vitality of the League of Nations I have no fear. It will take care of itself. And those who don't believe in it had better get out of the way.

"My only anxiety is to have our people headed in the right direction.

"This demonstration—I don't deserve it, but I enjoy it nevertheless."

There was a ripple of laughter at the warning to get out of the way. At his last statement cries of "Yes, you do" came from the audience. The ex-President spoke in clear tones and without sign of weakness. Persons across the street heard him distinctly, although there were many beyond reach of his voice.

The march from the theatre had been a long one and it was dusk by the time they arrived at the Wilson home. There had been no diminution of numbers but an increase. With the band playing they packed the dooryard and the entire street and for nearly a block in each direction.

In the midst of cheers for Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Wilson there was a demand for Samuel Gompers, who had been one of the speakers at theatre. Mr. Gompers fought his way to the entrance and disappeared inside. Shortly he reappeared with the former President and Mrs. Wilson amid deafening cheers. Mr. Gompers made a brief address, announcing to Mr. Wilson the nature of the demonstration and the faith they all had that the League of Nations would survive whether it be called a four-power pact or what not.

"We have not ceased to remember nor can we fail to address you as Mr. President," said Mr. Gompers. "Today we have held a great mass-meeting to the honor of you, sir, and the ideals for which you have stood. We live in your spirit and our acts in the future will be to mobilize that sentiment that we know to exist throughout this land to back the plan of broherhood that you initiated.

"You have blazed the way. We wish you health and a long life."

Quite as remarkable as the front-yard meeting was the mass assemblage preceding it, which jammed the New National Theatre. From first to last it was a League of Nations demonstration. Mention of Woodrow Wilson's domestic legislation brought little response.

It was when the presiding officer Charles Edward Russell, spoke of "the man who had overtaxed himself in his effort to establish a new order" and when Samuel T. Elliot, of Boston, said "the multitude of Americans believe in fair play" that the audience was aroused to the greatest enthusiasm.

Hamilton Holt, of the National Committee on the Wilson Foundation, gave the first clear picture of the manner in which the memorial would be expressed. It will be a fund of $1,000,000 or more," the interest from which will be spent each year as a Woodrow Wilson prize, like the Nobel prizes, to award that man or woman who in the opinion of a special committee has attempted the most in the direction that Mr. Wilson aimed.

"We propose to steal a march on the verdict of history and do it now while Mr. Wilson is alive," declared Mr. Holt.

"He has been a wonderful ex-President," continued Mr. Holt. "He has never dramatized his sick-bed. He has never calumniated those who pulled him down. He has signed no 'round robins.' In the words of St. Paul he has 'fought the good fight, he has kept the faith.'"

Blackstone—Classes of the junior and senior college departments and the senior academic department of Blackstone Female Institute will be reopened Feb. 1, in the new building which is being built to replace that burned in May 1920. Since the fire which destroyed the only remaining old building last Monday night all the girls have returned to their homes.

ALEXANDRIA IN THE LIME-LIGHT

Alexandria figured somewhat conspicuously in the scareheads of a Washington newspaper yesterday, as a second Reno in the matter of divorce suits. From our present information the figures are greatly exaggerated and the statements grossly unfair to the city. The matter should be thoroughly probed, however, and the allegations examined as to their truth or falsity. As we see it now, our Bar Association, composed of the worthiest members of the local legal fraternity, owe it to Alexandria to take vigorous measures in a matter which affects more or less the reputation of every lawyer in Alexandria.

MR. CAMPBELL'S LETTER

We publish today a letter from Mr. Frank G. Campbell, vice-president of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce, which comments upon the enactment of legislation by the present Assembly, looking to the prevention of highway defacement by unsightly bill-boards. We are heartily in accord with the Arlington County people in this matter, and in so far as we can, will gladly co-operate with them in the abatement of an evil that has become national in its scope. Alexandria, the centre of one of the most historic regions in the United States, certainly is interested in measures that will prevent the disfigurement of the highways that lead to and from the city. We commend this matter to the Civic Bureau of our Chamber of Commerce as well worth their future consideration.

NATIONAL THRIFT DAY

Tomorrow, January 17th, is National Thrift Day all over the United States. Why not celebrate it by starting a savings account? Money in the bank is sometimes the only friend you have when in sickness or trouble. It is certainly the only friend upon whom you would call for help without hesitation. Thrift may be a habit difficult to acquire, but it is the easiest of habits to pursue, once you have it. A little at a time, but all the time. There lies the secret. Suppose you see one of the bankers in town tomorrow. You will find them friendly and courteous and glad to give you their advice, without charge. It may mean the turning point of your life. Or, if you prefer, see the officers of a building and loan association. Their business is no longer an experiment. They have helped thousands to acquire a home who would otherwise be paying rent today. At any rate, do something to start that thrift habit. Tomorrow is as good as anytime—perhaps the best time—except today. Today is always better than tomorrow. Talk this matter over with those who know and you will be surprised to find how easy it is to make a start.

Arlington County Chamber of Commerce

January 13, 1922.
Editor, Alexandria Gazette,
Alexandria, Va.,
Dear Sir:

The Arlington County Chamber of Commerce, whose work is civic as well as commercial, is seeking the enactment of legislation by the Assembly of 1922, which will prevent the defacement of our highways by unsightly advertising signboards. In a recent editorial the News Leader of Richmond says in condemning unsightly signboards along the roads:

"There is, for example, one conspicuous corner in Richmond, occupied by a small retail store, whose outer walls are covered with glaring signs that completely ruin the appearance of the neighborhood. On Cary-Street road one never can get a glimpse of the landscape, unbroken by signs, until one passes the city limits. Then one comes into territory over which, with the co-operation of the county, the Westhampton Citizens' Association has supervision. Not a sign is to be seen. If one is tacked up on the highway, down it comes as soon as a member of the association observes it. To this activity, more than they realize it, Richmond people owe much of the delight of the drive to the Country Club.

"Vigilance in combating the small things that destroy a city's beauty is second only in importance to intelligent planning."

The Westhampton Citizens' Association has promised its help in the matter. Will you do the same?

Virginia is spending millions in good roads. The value of a road lies not only in a good roadbed, but in the preservation of that scenic beauty which has made the Old Dominion famous throughout the world. The man who takes his family for a drive into the country after the cares and toil of the day, seeking the beauties of nature should not have a presentation of the merits of Carters Little Liver Pills or Mennens Talcum Powder thrust upon him through every vista. These signboards are erected, in most instances, by non-resident corporations who deface our roads for the revenue that they derive from it. The proposed bill will be fought vigorously by the signboard companies. Only concerted action by the civic organizations of the state will carry it through. Will you help with a live editorial?

The proposed bill specifically exempts signs relating to the business carried on on the premises on which the sign is located. It does not affect the local merchant in any way.

Yours very truly
FRANK G. CAMPBELL,
Vice-President Arlington County Chamber of Commerce.

Modern Lamps Are Designed for Different Uses. Give Care to Their Selection.

The modern lamp has developed beyond the stage when any one was considered a good selection for any use. "A pretty lamp" was wanted, and choosing it consisted in taking the one which best fitted into the color scheme of the room for which it was intended.

No longer may this method be employed. The first question asked the purchaser is, "For what use is the lamp intended?" Reading or decoration, bedroom or living room? For you must know that there is much difference in those designed for the intimate boudoir and those intended for the general living parts of the house.

Just as certain materials seem meant for informal use and some for formal use, so are the modern lamps and their shades. Take, for instance, the doll shown in to-day's sketch. Her skirts of pink taffeta soften the light of the electric bulb concealed beneath them and thus is it made to take its place under the heading of decorative lights. No reading may be done in the soft glow it diffuses, but surely it adds to the charm of its surroundings. Useless? Not a bit. That which is beautiful has a definite mission in home decoration, and this piquant miss with her old time hoop skirts not only fits in, but adds to the atmosphere of the boudoir.

Her dainty dress, however, is not suitable to the living room. Or if it seems suitable to yours you may begin to suspect that something is wrong with the living room. For pink taffeta has small reason ever to be used in a room which has as much general use as the living room. In my next article we will discuss a little those lamps which give most service there.

A Reading Chair Placed Wisely Adds Much to a Room's Comfort.

Having discussed sewing and visiting groups of furniture let us to-day turn our attention to the necessity of placing the reading chair in a good location. If you are fond of reading I am sure you enjoy this article of furniture as much as you do any other in the room. Taken for granted that the chair is comfortable, the next thing to consider is where to place it so as to get the most pleasure from it.

If it is desired to isolate it from the rest of the furniture so as to have an uninterrupted study hour it may be placed in a far corner of the room with a lamp near at hand, but we are talking more of groupings, and so to-day I have asked the artist to show you an excellent placing for an easy chair. In the sketch you will see that it is near the window with the light falling over its left side, but its relation to the window seat gives it the opportunity of giving double use for the reading and visiting hour.

In your general living room it may not be possible to isolate a certain article for any one purpose. Therefore an easy chair should be placed so as to offer all comfort to the book lover and yet be in convenient reach when general conversation is taking place. As I mentioned in the first of these articles on groupings it is not a comfortable room where heavy furniture must be dragged around each time visiting is to be done.

FOR GREATER ALEXANDRIA

Edward S. Leadbeater Tells of School Board

Says Present Appropriation For Education Is Inadequate

E. S. Leadbeater, of the Leadbeater Drug Corporation and a member of the school board, tells the Gazette reporter that he thinks the thing most essential to the improvement of Alexandria can be told in two little words, and that those two words are "don't knock."

"I believe that there is too much knocking and too little boosting among our good people to allow us to do much. We want to support our city manager form of government to the utmost and let it have a free hand in the matter of fixing responsibility for the various departments of the city government.

"Now everybody seems to think, more or less, that the school board is responsible for the poor housing facilities of the schools. The members of the school board are, every one of them, heartily in favor of putting our schools at the top of the list of the twenty cities which we are now rated behind in the matter of school advantages. But the school board must limit its expenditures in accordance with the amount appropriated by the city council, and the city council, in turn, must limit its appropriations to the amount it has to appropriate. So no one can be blamed directly and every one must bear the share of the blame which is rightfully his.

"At the present time Alexandria is appropriating about fifteen dollars per year for each student enrolled in the schools. If the child does not progress as he should, naturally, the teacher gets the blame, but the teacher is not the one to get the blame and 'there is the rub.' Who is to blame? What can be done in the schools on fifteen dollars per year?

"I, when in city council several years ago, advocated the city manager form of government. Now at last it has come, I feel that a hearty, whole-hearted support of it will do much toward helping us toward our much wished for goal—a Greater Alexandria.

"As far as the proposed improvements go, I think them all worthy of being wished for and that if we can really make ourselves see the need of them we will find a way to make them become realities, because it has been said truly 'where there is a will there is a way.'

"One of the gravest questions now confronting the citizenry at the present time is the selection of the right men for our new council. They must be fearless men and must be free from the political influences of the city to do the things they will be expected to do when they once occupy their office.

"I think that the institution of a system whereby responsibility may be fixed for each and every act will help our city. There should be more boosting and less knocking. There should be less criticism, but if there must be some, let it be constructive, not destructive, in its nature."

Treasury Department

January 16, 1922

Dear Mr. Editor:

I will thank you to give space to the following on or after January 9th, 1922:

Following is a statement from Commissioner of Internal Revenue, David H. Blair, relating to the procedure with respect to inquiries received by the Bureau of Internal Revenue regarding tax liabilities:

"Requests are being received daily for rulings and advice upon abstract cases or prospective transactions involving questions of income tax and profits liability. These requests are so numerous and the insistence on prompt action so great that it seems advisable at this time definitely to outline the Bureau's policy which will govern the consideration of these requests.

"The Revenue Acts of 1918 and 1921 depart widely at many points from prior law or practice, and have given rise to new questions of such importance, complexity, and number that the resources of the Bureau are no more than adequate to advise taxpayers promptly of their present liabilities arising out of past transactions. It is impossible to answer every question which the ingenuity of the inquirer may device without neglecting the fundamental duty of determining tax liability upon the basis of actual cases in which the taxpayer desires to know what are his immediate liabilities under the law.

"It will be the policy of the Bureau not to answer any inquiry except under the following circumstances:

"The transaction must be completed and not merely proposed or planned.

"The complete facts relating to the transaction, together with abstracts, or other documents, necessary to present the complete facts, must be given.

"The names of all the real parties interested (not "dummies used in the transaction) must be stated regardless of who presents the question, whether attorney, accountant, tax service, or other representative."

Very respectively,
J. C. NOEL, Collector.

NEAR EAST RELIEF

Clarendon, Va., Jan. 16.—The Rev. John Lee Allison, D. D., Presbyterian minister, of Alexandria was appointed chairman of the Near East Relief in Arlington county yesterday by Oliver J. Sands, State chairman, in Richmond. His appointment marks the beginning of an active campaign for the raising of Arlington County's quota of $4,920 in the State wide drive for $300,000 in Virginia.

"There is no quesion now that Arlington County will raise its quota in the Near East Drive," Mr. Sands wrote "but every effort should be made to have the funds in hand as soon as possible. Thousands are homeless, in danger of freezing and starving. Only America can help them. There is no doubt that Arlington Couny will do its share, but it should be done at once to do the most good in this great work."

Urges Continuation of Virginia War History Commission

The American Legion in Virginia, through its share in the work of the Virginia War History Commission and having definite knowledge of the character and results of this work, and believing that the continuance of the Commission is essential to the successful recording of the history of the state, is taking steps to recommend to the Legislature, about to convene, that the Virginia War History Commission, as it now stands, be continued for two years.

The Legion has decided upon this course after a careful survey of the accomplishments of the Commission as shown in the titles of source material and the calendars of military histories published as supplements to the four issues of the Virginia Magazine of History for the year 1921. The Legion has also learned that material for two additional supplements has been prepared one copy of which is now in the hands of the printer.

Two of the supplements deal with source material from the cities and counties of Virginia and two of them contain short calendars of some two hundred military histories, narratives and reports, many of which were prepared and contributed by members of the American Legion. The Fifth supplement will consist of lists of source material and short histories of the two Virginia Councils of Defense and the Sixth Supplement will show the scope of a "clipping history" compiled from thousands of clippings from the leading papers of the State during the war period.

The results of the work of the Commission, as shown in these publications, prove conclusively to the Legionnaires of Virginia that this body of about one thousand patriotic men and women, not one of whom is receiving or has received compensation for this work, should be authorized to continue their work for another two years. Furthermore, the Legion believes that the incoming Legislature will do well to consider carefully the matter of an appropriation for this work. The work of the past three years has cost the State $25 000. The cities and countries have reported local appropriations that will probably bring their total to an equal amount. For the coming biennium, the Budget Committee has been asked by the executive committee of the Commission for $50,000 to complete the work in two years. This amount is estimated to cover the cost of collecting and collating adequate source material and of preparing the manuscript for he four volume history. An alternative plan has been submitted, however, in case this amount is not available. An appropriation of $15,000 will serve to carry on the work as at present, but will hardly complete the task.

The American Legion in Virginia believes that the complete records of the fighting men and the civilian war workers of Virginia in the World War can best be secured through the Virginia War History Commission as it now exists, with a central office in Richmond and a working unit in every city and county in the state. Moreover the Legion feels that this work should be completd in two years. It is because of this belief that the American Legion in Virginia will recommend to the Governor and to the Legislature that the recommendation of the executive committee of the Commission for an appropriation of $50,000 for the next biennium be accepted and approved. An efficient, patriotic working organization is at hand to do the work and they should be given the necessary funds to complete a task so well begun and to complete it not later than the spring of 1924.

In urging this appropriation, the American Legion feels that it is fostering a successful work, vital for Legion records. In other words, the Commission may be regarded as the historical branch of the American Legion in Virginia.

THIN FRAIL PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE TANLAC

Hundreds of Men and Women in Alexandria Appear to be Physical Wrecks Simply Because Their Systems Are Starving For Nourishment

There are hundreds of thin run-down nervous men and women right here in Alexandria who should be strong sturdy and vigorous with rich red blood tingling through their veins and feeling brimful of life and energy, if they would only profit by the experience of others all over the United States and Canada, and assist nature to digest the food they eat, by simply taking Tanlac.

Millions of people have not only been relieved of the most obstinate forms of dyspepsia and indigestion by Tanlac after other remedies have failed, but large numbers of them have reported a remarkable and rapid increase in weight and a return to normal health and strength by its use.

In fact, so phenomenal have been the gains in weight by thin, frail people through the use of Tanlac that this remarkable preparation is now being proclaimed everywhere as the World's Greatest Tonic.

The food people eat does them absolutely no good unless they digest it properly. When you suffer from indigestion and other forms of stomach trouble, the food does you harm instead of good, because food which is not digested stays in the stomach and ferments, causing pains, swelling gas on stomach, shortness of breath, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness and many other disagreeable symptoms. If this condition is permitted to run on for an indefinite period the entire system becomes saturated with poisons, the patient becomes thin and pale and in time various complications are apt to result.

Tanlac is a powerful reconstructive tonic and quickly overcomes this condition by aiding Nature to eliminate the impurities from the system in a natural way and enable the vital organs to properly perform their functions. That is why it is called Nature's Medicine.

In fact, there is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac, which begins its work by stimulating the digestive and assimilative organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the entire system. Next, it enables the weak, worn-out stomach to thoroughly digest its food and convert the nourishing elements into bone, blood and muscle. The result is you feel strong, sturdy and well with the proper amount of flesh, as Nature intended.

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfield, Jr., and leading druggists everywhere.

ADDRESS AT W.&M. COLLEGE

JUDGE PARKER TO DELIVER FIRST OF NOTABLE SERIES OF CONSTITUTIONAL LECTURES

Williamsburg, Va., Jan. 14.—Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, will deliver the opening address in a notable series of lectures which will be given at the College of William and Mary during this winter and the coming spring under the auspices of the Marshall Wythe School of Government and Citizenship, it was announced here today.

The occasion will mark the formal opening of the Marshall-Wythe School, designed to be a "pioneer school for preserving the Constitution," and memorializing services to legal education and the American Bar of George Wythe, father of legal instruction in America and his pupil, Chief Justice John Marshall. Both were alumni of William and Mary. Courses of study explaining and interpreting the Constitution, as Marshall expounded it, are embodied in the unique school's curriculum. The widespread interest which was aroused some time ago by the announcement of the projected school is expected to give to the forthcoming lectures unusual prominence in academic and legal circles.

Leading members of the American Bar from different sections of the country, will journey to this city to give the lectures which will constitute a veritable outline of the growth of government in the world culminating in the establishment of the Constitution of the United States. The lectures, which will define the duties of citizenship and the advantages of the American form of government, will comprise a "back to the Constitution" movement, the beginning of which, next Saturday is expected to mark an oustanding event in the educational world. Judge Parker, in his speech, will sound the keynote of the course, and outline its general scope.

A noteworthy company will attend the opening lecture on Saturday afternoon, including a number of members of the Virginia Legislature, law yers from Richmond and the Hampton Roads communities and educators. Invitations have been sent to Governor Westmoreland Davis, and Governor Elect E. Lee Trinkle.

While the entire list of lectures has not yet been announced, President Chandler said today that the speakers during the session would include, besides Judge Parker, Hampton L. Carson, of Philadelphi, former President of the American Bar Association William L. Marbury the distinguished Baltimore lawyer, Justice Harrington Putnam, of Brooklyn, a member of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of New York, R. Walton Moore, U. S. Representative from Virginia and former President of the Virginia Bar Association, Henry Campbell Black of Washington, D. C., constitutional law authority and editor of the Constitution Review, Randolph Harrison, of Lynchburg, another former Virginia Bar Association president, and counsel for Virginia in the West Virginia debt litigation J. E. Heath, president of the Norfolk and Portsmouth Bar Association, and H. St. George Tucker, former President of the American Bar Association.

Seventeen lectures will comprise the series, the final address to be given on May 13, Jamestown Day. The lectures will follow on successive Saturdays, beginning January 14, and will be attended by students of William and Mary and the public which is invited to be present. Classes in government and citizenship being conducted now as a puart of the Marshall-Wythe cirriculum, will attend as a part of their instruction.

The Marshall-Wythe lectures, as they will be known, represent with the class instruction the serious contribution of the College of William and Mary toward the solution of the problems arising from the propaganda of unrest and discontent with government being spread by persons uneducated in the real purposes and motives of American government.

Inasmuch as William and Mary supplies the State educational system with a leading number of school executives and teachers, it is felt that its graduates with the sound understanding of government which such a course of lectures and instructions will supply, will be peculiarly well equipped to carry into the schools of Virginia a clear sense of citizenship, its obligations and advantges. The whole purpose of the Marshall Wythe School is towards this end. The inauguration of the lectures has attracted widespread favor from educators and statesmen and their conduct will be watched with interest by many. As contrasted with the classes delivered at the Institute for Political Science held last summer at Williams College Massachusets, to which in many respects they will be a counterpart, the lectures will lay emphasis on our domestic duties, rather than on international purposes, the phases of ancient and modern European forms of government to be treated or being exhibited to point the college student's mind toward the basis of the constitutional form of government of the United States.

John W. Davis, of New York, former Ambassador to Great Britain Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Senator John Sharp Williams, and the Board of Directors of the National Security League of America are among those who have approved of the plan.

Characterizing the lectures as a "great idea," Mr. Davis recently wrote:

"I heartily wish it might be imitated in all the colleges of the country. If our government ideals and the structure of our government are to survive, it can only be by persistent, constant education of the people in their essentials. I can think of no greater duty which the American Bar can perform."

The faculty of the Marshall Wythe School is composed of John Garland Pollard, of Richmond, former attorney general of Virginia and retiring member of the Federal Trade Commission, Oscar L. Shewmake, former counsel for the Virginia Tax, and the State Corporation Commissions, and W. A. Hamilton, member of the New York and California Bar, L L. B. of Cornell, and Doctor of Civil Laws of Yale.

The teaching of the foundations of government, along the lines now proposed, is itself in a sense a restoration of the courses given by the great Wythe at William and Mary a century and half ago. The worth of such instruction can be guaged by the fact that he taught Marshall and Jefferson among others.

Judge Parker has interested himself in the new school as a friend of William and Mary and an advocate of the principles involved. He is Chairman of the Marshall-Wythe Committee, which is seeking a substantial endowment for the school. With President Harding, the former Democratic nominee for the Presidency received the degree of LL.D. from William and Mary on October 19, last.

High School Proves Too Strong For Manassas in Loose Game

Manassas brought its High School team to the Armory Saturday night and matched it against the local High School's invincible five and went down in defeat by the score of 66 to 8. The Alexandrians experienced no trouble at all in winning from the Manassas boys. At the start of the game Alexandria's players started scoring and there was not a let up in it until the final whistle sounded, while the guards did not allow the Manassas forwards a score except just once in a while. Petitt, at center for Alexandria was the individual star of the game although Midkiff and Dreifus did a goodly share of the point getting Ramage and Dyson, in the positions of guards, also did their work well as the score testifies. Dyson, too, did his share of the scoring.

This is the fifth straight victory of the season for the Alexandria boys and all the games have been won on good margin. Prospects are fine for the best basket ball season in the High School's history and the local fans will do well to follow these boys.

Summary:

Manassas	Positions	A. H. S.
Fateby	Forward	Dreifus
Jasper	Forward	Midkiff
Johnson	Center	Petitt
Covington	Guard	Ramage
Fairbanks	Guard	Dyson

Substitutions—Maddin for Jasper, Cockey for Dreifus, Fletcher for Ramage, Moore for Petitt, Wade for Dyson and West for Midkiff.

Foul goals—Fateby 4 of 4, Dreifus 2 of 2. Referee Kemp Cockrell.

Strasburg—Dwight Eberly, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Eberly, was severely shocked and burned Wednesday, when he attempted to turn on an electric light during the terrific storm that swept this part of the valley.

Are You Feeding Enough Whites?

About one out of ten poultry raisers feeds a ration properly balanced for egg production. The common mistake is feeding too much yolk-making material and failing to feed for whites. Grains alone make lots of yolks but few whites.

Purina Chows Balance

Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow, fed in equal parts by weight, balance the whites and yolks by supplying an equal number of each. They make hens lay to the limit of their capacity. Purina Chows save time and trouble—no guess work, no trouble and uncertainty of mixing. Feed both Chows and keep the egg basket full.

Chicago Jews Make Record Subscription to Succor Destitute European Brethren

JACOB M. LOEB JULIUS ROSENWALD

The Jewish residents of Chicago have just set a new record. In a few weeks they raised the sum of $1,810,000 for the hundreds of thousands of destitute Jews in the war-torn, famine-smitten areas of Eastern Europe. This great sum was the result of a money-raising campaign such as the city had never been before. Bankers and artisans, multi-millionaires and clerks worked as volunteers side by side. Mrs. Joseph Fish headed a division of 1,500 women workers who contributed materially to the total.

The money was raised for the $14,000,000 national fund being gathered by the American Jewish Relief Committee to aid the Jewish population in Eastern Europe, who, three years after the armistice, are in worse straits than ever as the result of wars, civil strife, famine and pestilence. Chicago's quota was fixed at $750,000. But after Jacob M. Loeb, former president of the Board of Education, had given up his manifold business interests to assume the chairmanship of the campaign, and Julius Rosenwald, the noted Jewish philanthropist, became honorary chairman, the two insisted that the quota be doubled to $1,500,000. "And Chicago will go over that," they declared.

To the few faint hearts who hinted at hard times they said: "Suppose you were starving?" That became the slogan of the campaign.

At a preliminary banquet Mr. Rosenwald made the modest announcement that for every seven dollars subscribed he would give one. A few days later one of the largest public meetings ever held in Chicago took place in Sinai Temple. More than a thousand were turned away from the overflow meeting. That night Chicago set a new record in giving. In less than 30 minutes over $600,000 was pledged.

Then Mr. Loeb began bombarding the Jewish residents of Chicago with his question: "Suppose you were starving?" It came to them in their morning mail. It faced them in posters and advertisements. Several hundred wealthy Jews were invited to a banquet at a leading hostelry. They found themselves in a dining hall dimly lighted by candles, where they were seated on bare benches at pine board tables, without cloth, glass, or china, and, it proved, without food. This grim, foodless banquet made a pro ound impression.

Of the total raised Mr. Rosenwald's subscription was $226,000.

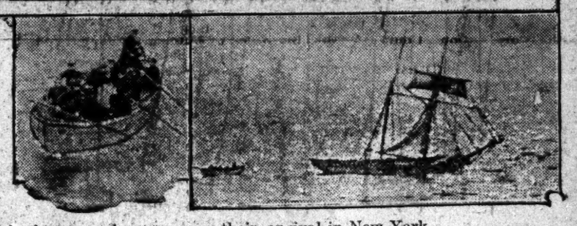
Camera Story of Captain Randall's Rescue of Six Sea Sastaways



An unusual marine picture is this, made from the United States liner Hudson, off St. Pierre, New oFundland ,showing the sinking of the French fishing smack Reine Deemers, from which Captain Randall, of the Hudson, removed six of the crew under difficulties. The photograph at right shows the rescued crew being rowed to the Hudson, which stood by. The captain of the fishing smack was washed overboard. In the top photograph Captain Randall is shown, with the rescued crew, upon their arrival in New York.

GOOD HEALTH OF CHILDREN FROM RICH BLOOD

Health, Strength and Vigor Built Up By Gude's Pepto-Mangan

You see one child strong and robust; another child pale and thin. One eats practically the same foods and takes the same exercise as the other. What is the difference? Nearly always it's a difference in the quality of the blood. The strong child has rich red blood, and plenty of it. You love to see him eat so heartily. If your child is thin and weak, give him Gude's Pepto-Mangan to build up the blood and see the difference between a sickly, unhappy childhood and a bouncing, healthy childhood.

Get Gude's Pepto-Mangan at your druggist's in liquid or tablet form. Be sure it's the genuine. Advertisement.

Woman Makes Great Parachute Leap

Remember way back when you were a kid and played "London Bridge is falling down?" Well, Miss Gladys Roy, of Los Angeles, Cal., has modernized that version and tells of her many parachute leaps. She is shown here sailing through California's balmy ozone, having just leaped from the plane speeding away.
